Excerpt: . . . 15 new rate on January 1, 2005, to account for increases in the cost of living from 2000 through 2004 and to adjust that rate on Janu-ary 1st of each year starting in 2007. CBO estimates that, taken together, these changes would in-crease revenues by 40 million in 2005, 459 million over the 2005 - 2009 period, and 557 million over the 2005 - 2014 period. With higher royalty collections, the payments to copyright owners also would increase. Historical spending patterns indicate that copyright holders may receive the fees and interest several years after the Copyright Office has collected the revenues. Thus, CBO estimates a significant lag between increases in revenue collections and higher payments to copyright holders. CBO estimates that in-creases in direct spending resulting from increases in royalty col-lections ( and interest on those collections ) would be negligible for the next few years but would total 48 million over the 2005 - 2009 period and 582 million...
