CUTTING CENTRAL STATION COSTS: WAYS BY WHICH CENTRAL STATION MANAGERS, OPERATING ENGINEERS AND SALES MANAGERS ARE MEETING HIGH COSTS (CLASSIC REPRINT)

Forgotten Books, United States, 2015. Paperback. Book Condition: New. 229 x 152 mm. Language: English Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from Cutting Central Station Costs: Ways by Which Central Station Managers, Operating Engineers and Sales Managers Are Meeting High Costs Central stations during the great war met the problems of furnishing energy under heavy restrictions. War brought the necessity of producing power with poor fuels, higher labor costs and extraordinary conditions of demand in many localities. The central station manager produces electricity to sell. He has always been aggressive in producing power at lower costs and the war has acted as an added incentive to make useful every pound of coal, every piece of machinery and equipment and every dollar of administrative and selling expense. Practical methods by which scores of central station men the country over have worked out their problems have been compiled in this book. The material has appeared in the Electrical World during the last nine months of war. In many cases, one man's idea in one issue has suggested to some other man his plan, which in subsequent issues has been presented for the industry. The industry now is entering a period of reconstruction and many of the plans and methods which have proved successful have a direct application in the everyday practice of the central station manager. To make this material most easily available to the reader, the book has been divided into sections-taking up in order operating economies in boiler and generating rooms, line construction and distribution methods and substation practice, then commercial practice and administrative plans, including tried out methods of reducing costs of meter reading, billing collections, the discontinuance of free service and the financing of extensions. The book concludes with timely articles on the training of...
